

The Conservative Warrior's Handbook

9 Power Strategies for Overcoming the
New Politically Correct Society

The Conservative Warrior
Conservative Party USA

The Conservative Warrior's Handbook

9 Power Strategies for Overcoming the New Politically Correct Society

The Conservative Warrior
Conservative Party USA

Copyright © 2020 by The Conservative Warrior

Printed in the United States of America

You have permission to reproduce excerpts of the book on your own website, blog, include it in your marketing materials, or make some other use of the it as long as you acknowledge the Conservative Party USA.

Table of Contents

Introduction – Exploring the New Politically Correct Society	1
Power Strategy #1: Discover Your Definite Purpose in Life	5
Power Strategy #2: How to Overcome Procrastination	7
Power Strategy #3: Overcome Adversity	9
Power Strategy #4: Profit by Understanding Negative Emotions	11
Power Strategy #5: Profit by Understanding and Overcoming Negativity	15
Power Strategy #6: Overcoming the Frustration of a Bad Day	19
Power Strategy #7: Accelerate Your Power	23
Power Strategy #8: Actively Support the Free Enterprise System	27
Power Strategy #9: Seize the Strategic Advantage	31

Introduction – Exploring the New Politically Correct Society

The Coronavirus Pandemic (Covid 19) changed our society in ways we never imagined. Unfortunately for us, the political establishment never allows a good crisis to pass on by.

You must understand that the Elite controls both the Democratic and Republican Party. Because of this unhappy fact, they act as one party. I once heard them referred to as the “Demopublican Party.”

Whether you want to face it or not, the Elite desires a One-World Government and a New-World Currency. Covid-19 gives them a perfect opportunity to accelerate their desires. The lockdown not only keeps us prisoners in our own homes but systematically destroys the economic system. The hopelessness, drug abuse, alcoholism and poverty that follows will kill more people than the virus ever will.

This book shows you how you can become the best you can be. That's the only way you will survive and reclaim your power...the power of personal liberty and economic freedom. The Conservative Party USA dedicates its effort to defending your individual rights.

Facing Reality

“The Politically Correct Society (the Matrix) depicts a dystopian future in which reality as perceived by most humans is actually a simulated reality created by sentient machines to subdue the human population, while their bodies’ heat and electrical activity are used as an energy source. Computer programmer Neo learns this truth and is drawn into a rebellion against the machines, which involves other people who have been freed from the “dream world.”

Now I'm not claiming this is how it is; however, most of what people believe amounts to an illusion, which means they perceive second-hand information as reality. In effect, these men and women live in a “dream world.” Mass thinking controls human affairs, even though it requires an individual to come up with an original idea, illusion or delusion.

It can be hard for us to pinpoint where an illusion begins. We can guess that it usually originates from radical progressives (mouthpieces of the Elite) who want to reap gains from people stumbling around in a “dream world.”

The Politically Correct Society

The Politically Correct Society exists as a simulated reality, but in a way it's real. You can witness political, economic and social illusions controlling the minds of people; however, no matter how erroneous the beliefs, they still manifest as reality. The reality-evader walks around in a “dream world” but it's still reality... and his “nightmare” spreads out like a spider's web...capturing everyone. And that's exactly what the Coronavirus Pandemic does.

Our lives display a similarity to rats running around in a maze as we bounce here, there and everywhere. Is it any wonder very few men and women discover long-term happiness and financial success? Because so few experience the joy of their existence it's imperative that we investigate the origin of the Politically Correct Society.

Note: It was only recently that the term Politically Correct came into vogue. However, the ideas behind it have always been with us.

The Origin of the Politically Correct Society

In the Matrix, sentient machines created the Politically Correct Society to subdue the human populations. Since the beginning of time similar forces have been at work doing exactly the same thing; a phenomenon we can refer to as the "survival of the fittest."

"Survival of the fittest" is a phrase that originated from Darwinian evolutionary theory as a way of describing the mechanism of natural selection. The biological concept of fitness is defined as reproductive success. In Darwinian terms the phrase is best understood as "Survival of the form that will leave the most copies of itself in successive generations."

Herbert Spencer first used the phrase, after reading Charles Darwin's On the Origin of Species, in his Principles of Biology (1864), in which he drew parallels between his own economic theories and Darwin's biological ones: "This survival of the fittest, which I have here sought to express in mechanical terms, is that which Mr. Darwin has called 'natural selection', or the preservation of favoured races in the struggle for life."

Note: Members of the Elite and their cronies consider themselves as the "favored race."

The Division of Labor

Before the rise in productivity due to the division of labor, brute force and superior intelligence decided who would rise to the top of the "food chain." A few controlled the many. For ages, life for the common man was short and brutish.

The division of labor freed men from extremely primitive conditions by raising the productivity of labor. Unfortunately, the masses still suffered under the Divine Right of Kings and the Feudal System which were politically controlled social systems. It appeared that human nature resulted in the lust for power, the control of many by a few of the privileged.

The great economist Ludwig von Mises states "The truth is that economic conditions were highly unsatisfactory on the eve of the Industrial Revolution. The traditional social system was not elastic enough to provide for the needs of a rapidly increasing population. Neither farming nor the guilds had any use for the additional hands. Business was imbued with the inherited spirit of privilege and exclusive monopoly; its institutional foundations were licenses and the grant of a patent of monopoly; its philosophy was restriction and the prohibition of competition both domestic and foreign. The number of people for whom there was no room left in the rigid system of paternalism and government tutelage of business grew rapidly. They were virtually outcasts. The apathetic majority of these wretched people lived from the crumbs that fell from the tables of the established castes."

As you can see, there was very little room for men and women to improve their lives, because prosperity and well-being required the social system of capitalism. And that's exactly the purpose of the shutdown of our economic system...to finally destroy capitalism.

The Renaissance and the Industrial Revolution

"The Renaissance was a cultural movement that profoundly affected European intellectual life in the early modern period. Beginning in Italy and spreading to the rest of Europe by the 16th century, its influence was felt in literature, philosophy, art, music, politics, science, religion, and other aspects of intellectual inquiry. Renaissance scholars employed the humanist method in study, and searched for realism and human emotion in art."

Soon we experienced the Industrial Revolution and the American Revolution which began freeing the individual's mind and spirit.

Regardless of what progressives claim, men and women flocked to the factories in order to improve their situation. Sure, the conditions were primitive to what we're used to, but it beat the sorry environment these people suffered under.

The 19th Century was a perfect example of how capitalism greatly increases the living standards of men and women. As always, power-seekers find ways to subvert the smooth functioning of the marketplace. In the early part of the 20th century, the Elite succeeded in strengthening the Politically Correct Society to their benefit and keeping us entrapped in our illusions.

The Federal Reserve System and the Federal Income Tax

Superstitious people claim the number 13 is unlucky and if they're referring to the year 1913, they have a valid point.

We can trace the destruction of our modern economic system to the year 1913, when it received a double whammy. The Elite and its Soldiers (progressives) foisted the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Income Tax on the American citizens which began the screwing of productive individuals. Cronyism was about to run amok. You must realize crony capitalism is not laissez faire capitalism; it's anti-capitalism.

Federal Reserve monetary policies transfer wealth from Main Street to Wall Street. The Progressive Federal Income Tax guarantees newcomers will never accumulate enough capital to compete with Big Business. The Power Elite retained control of the Politically Correct Society.

The Politically Correct Movement

The politically correct movement is meant to reinforce "the Matrix" with the Hive Mind Mentality. It's not enough that we're like rats in a maze, we have to be placed in a hive managed by the Queen Bee...which is the Elite. Radical progressives attempt to enforce the rules of hive.

Soldiers of the Elite such as progressives and members of the Mainstream Media attempt to keep us firmly stuck in the hive. That way they can institute their totalitarian system run by the Elite. It will be much worse than what we saw in the old days of the Politically Correct Society. In fact, rats might have it lucky compared to an existence in a fascist economic system, with its suppression of individualism. Collectivism embraces the Hive Mind Mentality, enforcing a mindless existence.

Conclusion

We don't have to accept the politically correct nonsense that progressives impose on us. We can exist as integrated individuals, living for our own sake and creating value for value relationships. Let's make our number one priority overcoming the Politically Correct Society, taking back our personal liberty and economic freedom.

In "the Matrix" Morpheus says "You take the blue pill, the story ends. You wake up in your bed and believe whatever you want to believe. You take the red pill, you stay in Wonderland, and I show you how deep the rabbit hole goes." The term red pill refers to a human who is aware of the true nature of the Politically Correct Society. Freedom means seeing through its illusions.

It's more important than ever to become the type of person who is strong enough to overcome the Elite's power grab. That means you exist as a Conservative Warrior.

Note: the following isn't directly about politics. We desire our supporters to exist as the strongest individuals on earth. With your support we will take care of the political aspects of life. It's not too late to overcome the New Politically Correct Society.

Power Strategy #1: Discover Your Definite Purpose in Life

Bill Harris creator of Centerpointe Research Center states. "Every action you take, every feeling you feel, in fact, every outcome you experience, inside and out, is the result of a strategy. All day long, you unconsciously run through a constant stream of strategies. You have strategies for love, hate, learning, forgetting, parenting, sports, communicating, selling, buying, motivation, sex, health, disease, creativity, relaxation, fun, boredom, anxiety, depression, poverty, wealth—and for everything else."

Successfully implementing your Power Strategies require that you possess a definite purpose in life.

As you probably know, morning sets the course for the rest of the day. Do you feel a burst of energy when you wake up? Maybe, maybe not. I admit that some mornings I wobble out of bed wondering if the Sandman stole my energy. How do I retrieve it? I think about my definite purpose. Here's what Napoleon Hill has to say about it.

"Definiteness of purpose is the starting point of all achievement. Don't be like a ship without a rudder, powerless and directionless. Decide what you want, find out how to get it, and then take daily action toward achieving your goal. You will get exactly only what you ask and work for."

Make Up Your Mind

Make up your mind today...decide what you want...then go for it. Successful people move on their own initiative...and they know where they're going.

That's the mindset of an individual who fervently wants to overcome the Politically Correct Society. When faced with impending purposelessness, uncertainty or procrastination, he reloads his determination with the ammo of definite purpose. He understands that an existence without purpose stands out as one of life's illusions. He conquers it with deadly precision.

Your definite purpose should supply you a positive attitude and the motivation to get moving. If it doesn't, you have a problem.

With your definite purpose in hand, you take immediate action to gain the raw experience you need.

Important recommendation: Read Napoleon Hill's 'Think and Grow Rich' and "The Law of Success." In fact, I'm going to re-read these masterpieces.

Today's Activities

When you look at today's important activities, how do you feel about them? Are they challenges that you happily look forward to conquering—or do you see them as burdens that weigh you down? You can see why possessing a definite purpose makes your life worthwhile...and powerful.

The Conservative Warrior

People without a purpose actually hold on to one "purpose." Getting the work day or work week over so they can indulge in some mindless activities. Now I'm not saying that you shouldn't relax and enjoy some pleasurable activities, but if that's your purpose in life, you have a real problem. After a productive day of working on my definite purpose, I love to slowly sip some Chardonnay or Brandy and listen to my favorite music. Happily, those soar as activities that tap my creative mind.

Your definite purpose must inspire you. Without inspiration, you won't stick to it. Don't decide on something willy-nilly. The rational individual knows what his (her) definite purpose is because he lives by his highest values. If you adopt the second-handed values of others you will deny your authentic self and wander around hopelessly in the Politically Correct Society.

Members of the Elite want you to relinquish the values that made America great. We cannot allow that to happen.

You just discovered Power Strategy #1 for becoming a Conservative Warrior. Let's move on to the next Power Strategy.

Power Strategy #2: How to Overcome Procrastination

Let's say you decide you want to master your definite purpose. Once you make a firm decision a deadly enemy will confront you. Even though it's one of the best friends of the irrational individual, it will attempt to befriend you. It goes by the name of procrastination. It tempts you with the illusion of mindless short-term pleasures. Like they say, with this kind of friend who needs enemies. As soon as it arrives on the scene you pull out your power weapons of persistence and determination. Hopefully, you're not sitting around naked and unprepared. Never forget that you are in charge of the unique and powerful experience that manifests as your life.

Note: One of the aims of lockdown is to make you so passive that procrastination takes over your life. The Conservative Warrior won't allow that to happen.

Once it's time to work, get going. Procrastination might have you lamenting about what you should do, causing you to shuffle papers or check out social media fluff. You need to make a list of your "A" activities. I have mine on a Word doc. with the simple title of "Action." Just start on one of those activities. Albert Einstein stated "Nothing happens until something moves." Take action, then more action.

Let's say that you possess an impressive number of positive traits and you know what your definite purpose is. You believe you have taken charge of your thoughts and feelings. Unfortunately, when the time for battle arrives, you're unable to pull the trigger. You lack the action habit. You might as well walk around naked and unarmed for all the good your virtues are doing you. And you will remain that way because power flows to those who are ready to use it.

The Rational Individual

The rational individual realizes he must take action in order to satisfy his goals and desires. "An ant on the move does more than a dozing ox." - Lao Tzu. If you sit on your butt wishin' and a hopin', irrational people might pass you by. It's obvious that gaining power requires determined action.

Let's face it. You will face many challenges that seemingly come out of nowhere. That is what makes life, well life. Often events appear random and unpredictable like the Coronavirus Pandemic. Existence isn't some lily-white phenomenon that you can statistically inventory, predict and perfectly forecast. In fact, it appears quite chaotic. You must find order in chaos. Sometimes unpleasant events happen to you and the people around you. How you act and what you do during times of trials and tribulations define you.

Timeless Wisdom

Norman Vincent Peale says "Become a possibilitarian. No matter how dark things seem to be or actually are, raise your sights and see possibilities - always see them for they're always there." What great advice!

Brian Tracy states "I believe through learning and application of what you learn, you can solve any problem, overcome any obstacle and achieve any goal that you can set for yourself."

And we have some monumental obstacles to overcome.

If you find yourself hopelessly wondering what to do, pray, meditate or reflect on the situation for 5 minutes then take action. If that doesn't work listen to some music, take a walk or immerse yourself in nature (that is if you can do it without the authorities arresting you). That could unleash the power of your subconscious mind and inspire you to take action. You overcome obstacles and challenges by taking action.

Someone with purpose takes charge of his thoughts, feelings and actions. He knows all effects have causes, and he makes sure he understands cause and effect relationships. He may error in his judgment, as all men do from time to time, but he has acquired the ability to adjust his thinking and actions. And he takes action to achieve his goals and desires.

The Powerful Individual

The powerful individual takes complete responsibility for his thoughts, feelings and actions, and confidently accomplishes his goals and desires. He eliminates negative feelings of anger, hate, envy and jealousy from his being. He confidently overcomes the Politically Correct Society, always moving towards his goals and desires.

Success means you move forward with purpose, harmonizing your actions with your values. You definitely won't consider accepting the second-hand values of others. And you easily defeat your arch-enemy procrastination which helps you gain power.

Don't forget that Political Correctness is meant to disarm your ability to think critically. The Elite and its cronies just love mindless peasants. Fortunately, you're a Conservative Warrior who has captured 2 Power Strategies.

Power Strategy #3: Overcome Adversity

I think you agree that it's worth your while to meet life's events with high energy, especially since there will be times when that prankster Murphy from Murphy's Law shows up to spoil your day. His motto is "Anything that can go wrong, will go wrong." Success in life is positively correlated with the amount of times you failed and were able to rebound by pursuing newer and better opportunities. Do you know that successful people failed many times before they discovered the road to success? You don't think I learned how to write overnight. I can tell you many tales of failure, frustration and heartbreak. Many of my books and blogs failed miserably.

It's possible the valiant attempt you made to accomplish a worthy goal missed the mark. Even though you're disappointed or even disheartened think of the valuable lessons that failure provided you. Only a fool would fail to learn from adversity. The rational individual doesn't let failures flourish, then die in vain. He's grateful for the education he received. The irrational person ignores the lessons and instead plays the blame game. He's completely unaware that he's responsible for his life. And that keeps him enslaved in the Politically Correct Society.

Note to a Conservative Warrior: Well, you just received a taste of a totalitarian lockdown. How do you like it?

You need to accept failure as a cost of learning and more than that; a measure of learning as well. One of my goals is to help you avoid the mistakes I made. Yes! You can conquer life's illusions much quicker than I conquered them.

The Conservative Warrior Takes Charge

Once you take charge of your thoughts, feelings and actions you take control of your life and destiny. During tough times this becomes extremely critical...and these are tough times. When the tides are low, one wrong move could have you beached. Now that's appears to be a rather helpless situation. You must realize that members of the Elite who attempt to control all activities in the Politically Correct Society want to keep you down and out...and powerless. Living powerfully for your own sake threatens their agenda for world control.

The Conservative Warrior acts in a cool, calm manner when faced with adversity—even when the adverse circumstances seem almost too much to handle. He doesn't join the crowd of people who begin losing their heads, giving into hate, anger, jealousy and envy. An unfocused mob can go mad, plundering and pillaging the community around them. You've seen the results in news stories. When it comes down to it you are able to act as the individualist acts. You take charge of yourself and the situation. Prayer, meditation and reflection accelerate your ability to gain the necessary skills to handle difficult circumstances. When you control your thoughts, feelings and actions, you take control of your environment and your destiny. You gain power by overcoming the Politically Correct Society.

Note: It's more important than ever to exercise your power as a Conservative Warrior.

If you want excel at your definite purpose or any other activity, you need to be proactive. You've heard that practice makes perfect. You reach mastery by gaining as much experience as possible. You work as hard and as effectively as you can; then one day you arrive at the place you always dreamed about. Don't permit anyone to discourage you with the nonsense that you must discover some magical formula or spend years learning the 5823 rules of success.

Irrational People and Know-It-Alls

Let's turn to Robert Ringer for some important advice. "Don't allow yourself to be intimidated by know-it-alls who thrive on bestowing their knowledge on insecure people. Mentally close your ears and put blinders on your eyes, and move relentlessly forward with the knowledge that what someone else knows is not relevant. In the final analysis, what is relevant to your success is what you know and what you do."

Irrational people often masquerade as know-it-alls. They secretly want to see you to fail. Your success and happiness threaten their shaky anti-life foundations. You don't want to place your life under their influence which could cause you to become stuck in the Hive Mind Mentality.

There are two prime ways to gain insight: through wisdom or through woe. When you can't gain the proper advice or pre-learned insight that means you're going to have to figure it out on your own. You're faced with the slow trial and error method. My fervent desire is to eliminate much of the woe you will face when you wing it. You can't afford to stumble around in the Politically Correct Society in despair.

*Most of the time things never are as bad as you think they are. It's much better to directly face your challenges than to cowardly run away from them. Do you have a history of conquering the challenges that life throws your way? If not, you can start making history.

*As Conservative Warriors it's critical that we make sure the situation doesn't deteriorate into a totalitarian society. Members of the Conservative Party USA dedicate themselves to "Authentic Conservatism." That makes us Conservative Warriors.

Power Strategy #4: Profit by Understanding Negative Emotions

Unfortunately, men and women suffer from negative emotions such as hate, anger and envy. Fear reigns as the motivating emotion. You can see why people seek help. Their desperation results in the sale of millions of self-help books each year.

Do you want to help yourself by helping other people?

The *marketplace offers you immense opportunities to satisfy the consumers' most urgent desires. Understanding the negative emotions of others could result in enormous profits...and you might even help some escape the illusions of the Politically Correct Society.

*It's important we use our political influence to help us restore the marketplace. We support free market capitalism. Without it, squalor and poverty are the fate of the masses.

As mentioned earlier, morning usually defines your day. Do you feel overwhelmed or are you ready to rise to the challenge? A person who has allowed irrational selfishness to take control of his life might go to pieces over little things like getting dressed or making the bed. A severely depressed person won't even be able to attend to his basic needs. You can allow difficulties and responsibilities to drag you down as insurmountable problems or you can decide to transform them into challenges that you conquer. A person trapped by the illusions of the Politically Correct Society experiences a sense of hopelessness.

We need to understand how these unfortunate men and women feel.

The Unfortunate Person

Let's consider the unfortunate person who wakes up in the morning overwhelmed with negativity. Do you think he (she) has an easy time getting out of bed? Can you imagine how difficult it is for him to find the motivation to take any productive action? He generates so much negative energy, that even if he manages to pull himself out of bed, he attracts negative people and circumstances, depleting the minuscule amount of positive energy he did possess. By time nightfall arrives, he feels extremely tired, suffering from the despair of his daily whipping. His only solace is sleep, that is if the curse of insomnia doesn't cause sleeplessness.

The Perfect Example

"That damn alarm clock is my worst enemy. I just wish it would shut up and let me slip back into slumber. Now I have to drag myself out of bed and shut it off. How I hate facing another day. I'm so tired and I feel down and out. I just thought of something. My work associate Jim is coming over to party tonight. He says he will bring a bottle of Southern Comfort. At least I have that to look forward to.

I wish he would also bring a couple of hot chicks over. My last girlfriend said I was too pessimistic and wasn't any fun. I thought we were having a good time drinking, listening to some music and drinking some more. Come to think it over, the last time she was here I couldn't "get it up." She told me I wasn't much good for anything except maybe drinking. I haven't seen her since. Anyway, she was one selfish bitch.

My Job

I hate my job, but what else can I do. I can't think of any kind of work that would amuse me. Oh well, I guess work isn't supposed to be fun. Still, there must be some kind of purpose in all of this, but I don't know-----. Thinking about all of this confuses me. Didn't someone say it isn't good to think too much.

Well, I better get ready and drag myself off to work before I lose my job. The boss told me I better shape up or else. He even wrote me up for something that wasn't my fault. He claims he told me to update the virus and anti-spyware protection on our company's computers. I don't remember anything about. I did notice the one I was using was dragging ass. I kinda liked it because I could move slower and not stress out, although I wouldn't want my personal laptop to do that. It would be hard to watch porn flicks if they kept freezing up. Anyway, how was I to know it was about ready to permanently crash. He even harassed me by asking how come I didn't see the renewal notices. What an asshole! Why's everybody always picking on me?"

I don't think we need to go into the rest of the day. It doesn't get any better.

Rational Self-Interest

Obviously, we just described a person who never discovered the power of rational self-interest (enlightened self-interest). He lives his miserable life as an irrational person who allowed negativity to pollute his body, mind and spirit.

Are you able to help an unfortunate soul realize he possesses every right to live for his own sake? Some people would consider this selfishness. Richard Bach says "Your conscience is the measure of the honesty of your selfishness. Listen to it carefully." He also states "Your only obligation in any lifetime is to be true to yourself." It's a virtue to help men and women be true to themselves.

How could anyone feel motivated to take positive actions when he's smothered by life's illusions? You could offer consumers a product or service that help people see problems as challenges...that could strengthen them once they acted effectively to solve them.

During these difficult times you can show the way by acting as a Conservative Warrior acts.

By now you should know things don't always go as planned. You realize that you must continually make adjustments in order to accomplish your goals and desires. That's why it best to see problems as challenges.

Let's say the time arrives where you suddenly feel overwhelmed. The lockdown from The Coronavirus Pandemic has you completely paralyzed. There's no way you can take any action.

Time to Remain Strong

The Conservative Warrior realizes he needs to remain strong to overcome his unfortunate situation. It occurs to him that maybe he needs to back-off to replenish his positive energy and rediscover his bearings.

Put yourself in his position, which of course is what this book recommends. Why would you want to keep banging your head against the wall and increase your stress? Members of the Elite want to see you in a weakened condition. That way you won't offer much resistance.

Let's consider the saying "When the going gets tough, the tough get going." This is good advice unless more action sends you spiraling further away from your goals and desires. You could be well past the point of diminishing returns. Harry Browne makes it clear in his marvelous book on sales "Secret of Selling Anything." He says that another all-time sales fallacy is the statement "When the going gets tough, the tough get going. When the going gets tough, I usually take a vacation." As Kenny Rogers sings "You got to know when to hold'em, know when to fold'em." The rational individual knows that sometimes it best to retreat and re-energize for renewed action.

We must be strong enough to handle the difficulties (grenades) the Elite and its politically correct society tosses our way.

Fear and the Irrational Person

The irrational person will take anything bad that befalls him as a personal attack. He laments that this shouldn't have happened to him, that once again he's a victim of a grave injustice. Sure, injustice runs rampant in a world created by the Elite and its benefactors. However, the more he focuses on injustice instead of self-responsibility the more he loses his grip on reality and allows fear to take over his sense of life. Fear lurks behind all of the negative emotions.

You gain freedom when you understand your fears...work on diminishing the power they have over you. People who attempt to control the Politically Correct Society for their own avaricious goals and desires depend on you living in fear.

Note: The Elite and its cronies have certainly used fear to control the American people. As Conservative Warriors we overcome fear and live from a position of power. Yes, we are powerful!

You now have 4 Power Strategies to enhance your power.

Wisdom from one of our great Founding Fathers
That's definitely part of the Code of the Conservative Warrior

Power Strategy #5: Profit by Understanding and Overcoming Negativity

When an overwhelmingly negative attitude shapes your reality, you attract more negativity. Like attracts like. It only gets worse when a group of irrational people throw a pity party. If you happen to find yourself at one their gatherings, I hope you're walking proud as a Conservative Warrior who acts from enlightened self-interest.

A Harrowing Nightmare

You find yourself at a pity party surrounded by hundreds of irrational men and women. Suddenly, you're sitting naked at a bar crying in your beer over all the sad tales of misery and despair you somehow couldn't resist. Someone sits by you slurring something about how undeserved it all is. He or she finally becomes angry and in a high screechy voice claims there ought to be a law, the government ought to do something. You can't tell if it's a man or a woman going on and on about social injustice. You make an effort to escape your predicament.

You get up, turn around and discover a frightening situation. You're confronted by a phony do-gooder who smiles at you, slaps you on the back and gives you that knowing wink of an eye. In your drunken state of mindlessness you vaguely remember possessing some kind of weapon, but it's nowhere to be found. You realize you are trapped. There is no escape. You let out a terrible scream, hoping it will awaken you from your horrible nightmare. You finally wake up with the determination to never again place yourself at the mercy of irrational people. You make a lifetime pledge to always live as a Conservative Warrior, even in your dreams.

Avoid Negative People

It's not always possible to avoid negative people. Still, it's not in your best interest to interact and socialize with them when it's possible for you to ignore them. You must realize they allow their reality to be shaped by other negative people. You have the perverse spectacle of irrational people feeding on each other. Eventually social engineers get in on the "feast" and consume what's left of their minds and souls.

Can you imagine the emptiness of the irrational person? His only "weapons" are denial, projection and transference. His basic personality traits along with his unhappy situations decide which impotent weapon he will favor. He also has the option of indulging in mind-numbing activities in order to alleviate his suffering. He finds himself completely trapped in the Politically Correct Society...stuck in the Hive Mind Mentality. Understanding the negativity these people live with could bestow you with enormous mental, emotional and financial profits, especially with your investing strategies.

A Personal Point of View

You inadvertently or carelessly allow negative people in your life. You're amazed to see them multiplying like rabbits. The next thing you know you are witnessing a sick competition where first prize goes to the person who displays the most irrational traits. Much to your surprise, your reason, logic, rationality and intuitive power wins you the "booby" prize. Since you're such a "terrible" individual you think that maybe you'll be kicked out of the "league of irrationality." No such luck. Even irrational people have watched enough sporting events to know there has to be a winner and a loser. In your state of shock, you temporarily forget about your existence as a rational individual. Suddenly, you feel some force draining your vital energy. Much to your dismay you realize that energy vampires are sucking you dry. Just in time you remember you possess enough positive weapons and have just enough energy to protect yourself. You let out a sigh of relief at your close call.

Ok. Maybe that's an exaggeration. Still, you can only help yourself and others if you live a powerful life filled with rationality and sublime desires. The key: To live by your highest values...not the second-hand values of others.

Perhaps it finally occurred to you that members of the Elite, their soldiers and irrational people endanger your well-being by attempting to drain your power. In addition, you've allowed your own negative thoughts to get you down. Releasing negativity from your being helps you accomplish your goals and desires. You can't hold in negativity and expect to feel peaceful and easy. Negative thoughts and feelings sabotage your ability to achieve your definite purpose and they destroy your peace of mind. I understand that unwanted thoughts suddenly pop into your mind, especially when negative circumstances confront you.

Release Negative Feelings and Emotions

Here's an effective method for releasing negative feelings and emotions... achieving peace of mind. You can't increase your power and master the Politically Correct Society if depression and anxiety continually sabotage you.

Get in a relaxed state, sitting comfortably. Take a deep breath in through your nose, inhaling very slowly, filling your lungs and stretching them out. Hold it in to the count of 3. Open your mouth slightly and exhale very slowly, and as you do, just feel your body relaxing, relaxing, relaxing.

Take another a deep breath in through your nose, inhaling very slowly, filling your lungs and stretching them out. Hold it in to the count of 3. Open your mouth slightly and exhale very slowly, and as you do, just feel your body relaxing and relaxing more and more.

Once again, take another deep breath in through your nose, inhaling very slowly, filling your lungs and stretching them out. Hold it in to the count of 3. Open your mouth slightly and exhale very slowly, and as you do, just feel your body relaxing more and more.

Take one more deep breath in through your nose, inhaling very slowly, filling your lungs and stretching them out. Hold it in to the count of 3. Open your mouth slightly and exhale very slowly, and as you do, just feel your body becoming completely relaxed.

Imagine a white light surrounding your being. Now visualize it spinning counterclockwise dissolving the blocks and obstacles it pulls from your body. You can see these blocks and obstacles as little gray balls or blocks the color of black. Notice the white light growing brighter during the cleaning process. When you finish the cleaning, spin the light clockwise to re-energize you.

The above technique may sound silly...but I guarantee it works.

Conclusion

Whatever helps you overcome the Politically Correct Society is worth trying.

Your strength as a Conservative Warrior continually increases as you just captured another Power Strategy.

ARGUE FOR YOUR LIMITATIONS, AND
SURE ENOUGH
THEY'RE YOURS.

Richard Bach

American writer

(Born 1936)

QuoteHD.com

OVERCOME YOUR LIMITATIONS

Power Strategy #6: Overcoming the Frustration of a Bad Day

Here's a brief description of a bad day.

Note: With the lockdown from the Coronavirus Pandemic what follows might seem like the "good ole days."

What a day! Nothing seemed to go right. Undeniably, I had a bad day. I spent most of the day facing rejection. I'm lucky I salvaged any kind of enjoyment and pleasure. Come to think of it, I can't remember any. The morning traffic was terrible which caused me to be 12 minutes late for my first appointment. To make matters worse the prospect canceled the appointment just as I arrived, informing me she wasn't interested in our service.

After prospecting for several hours to no avail, I made the mistake of visiting a fast-food hamburger joint for lunch. The service practically crawled to a stop, then I was served something that resembled a cheeseburger along with cardboard fries. That'll teach me to eat a healthier lunch.

My second appointment didn't help my day go any smoother. I attempted to get the young couple interested in our home security solution. I asked the right questions, showed concern for their needs and came up with the solution they needed. Unfortunately, her mother arrived as I was closing the sale. She butted in and told her daughter not to go with us...but to call the company who did her home security service. I walked out without the sale.

The Day Gets Worse

The third appointment put the finishing touch on an unprofitable day. After carefully listening to the prospect's concerns, he told me he only wanted a bid...that he was seeing 4 other companies. When I continued to question him, I found out his cousin worked for one of the companies. I left with very little chance of hearing from him.

The traffic on the way home was worse than this morning. Eventually, I arrived home feeling tired, beaten and defeated. My frustration level is in the stratosphere. I think I'll plop down in front of the TV and crash. Events in the hive were definitely against me.

How a Conservative Warrior Handles a Bad Day

I'm sure you can understand my reaction. Bad days happen to us all. However, it's an illusion to believe the day permanently beat you down. Once you lose sight of your highest values and allow adversity to derail you from working on your goals, you set yourself up for failure and frustration. Norman Vincent Peale once said "Whenever God wants to send you a gift he wraps it up in a problem. The bigger the problem the bigger the gift." Now that might seem like an exaggeration, but there's an element of truth in his statement. You must comprehend the fact that it's up to you to find the seeds of success in adversity.

And that's exactly what the Conservative Warrior does.

Here are three possible outcomes to the inevitable bad days that seem to appear out of nowhere.

1. You decide working on your long-term goals and desires can wait. Anyway, life is full of frustrations and disappointments, so why make an effort when it probably won't matter. It's much easier to forget it all and let life happen. You give up and possibly give in to the so-called pleasures of irrational selfishness.
2. Since you feel beaten up, you decide to go home and forget about it. It is better to admit defeat, crash out and get a good night's sleep. Tomorrow is another day. Maybe, you will feel renewed when morning arrives.
3. You know that you are unstoppable. You're not going to allow a bad day to ruin your evening. You go home and revive with a shower, a short, powerful meditation, prayer or some other re-energizing activity. You decide to enjoy the evening with some rational pleasures or work on accomplishing some long-term goals. You know that you exist as a powerful individual who can overcome the Politically Correct Society.

Which Option Would You Choose?

I hope you didn't choose the first option, because it's an illusion of limited consciousness. Just because you had a bad day doesn't mean you permanently give up. It amazes me that some people throw in the towel at the first sign of resistance.

You've probably heard about being in the zone. What are the consequences of being out of the zone? Well, being out of it for a day or two doesn't prevent you from getting back in. You can't conquer your illusions and overcome the Politically Correct Society by giving up.

The second option is pretty good, as long as you know that tomorrow you return to accomplishing your goals and desires. If you need a vacation to renew your energy, take one and have a good time, then come back better than ever.

If you decide you will overcome a bad day with option three, you have become unstoppable. Temporary defeat might attempt to trip you up, but you always win in the end. Nothing stops you from living the life you desire. You carry tremendous momentum towards your goals and pleasures.

Act as a Conservative Warrior Acts

Here's a powerful description of a warrior in action.

An individual who realizes self-mastery knows he exists as a being who possesses power. It is possible to call him or her a warrior. In the classic book by Carlos Castaneda "Journey to Ixtlan" don Juan says the following about a warrior. "A warrior calculates everything. That's control. But once his calculations are over he acts. A warrior is not a leaf at the mercy of the wind. No one can push him; no one can make him do things against himself or against his better judgment. A warrior is tuned to survive, and he survives in the best of all possible fashions.”

Not only does the Conservative Warrior tune himself to survive, he also thrives. He understands reality...and he uses his knowledge to succeed in his endeavors. He is a powerful individual who becomes a master of his fate by overcoming the Politically Correct Society.

Good news. You have just captured another Power Strategy. Your Power to overcome the New Politically Correct Society increases.

Self-reliance is the only road to true freedom, and being one's own
person is its ultimate reward.

QUOTEHD.COM

Patricia Sampson

LIVE FOR YOUR OWN SAKE

Power Strategy #7: Accelerate Your Power

Here's a platitude you've probably heard from a social altruist or radical progressive. "This is for the good of society." Of course, he never defines who this society character is. He assumes everyone knows what he is talking about...or maybe he hopes nobody figures it out. An enlightened individual understands the dangers involved in doublespeak.

Do you know that social altruists believe in self-sacrifice and self-denial? They exhort individuals, such as you, to sacrifice your best interests...and to conform to the Hive Mind Mentality." At different times in history, they used other names for their master, such as "state", "collective" etc. Whatever they choose to call their brand of slavery, it always means the sacrifice of the individual for the "good" of others...which really means for the benefit of the Elite.

Obviously, the irrational beliefs of altruists, do-gooders and world-improvers violate Natural and Economic Law...resulting in the poverty, misery and degradation of the masses.

The Queen Bee

Consider this. The problem with the "reasoning" of altruists, radical progressives, do-gooders and world-improvers is their belief system slips, slides and then tumbles upside down. These meddlers think from the point of view of the Hive Mind Mentality. It's wise see reality from the enlightening viewpoint a unique individual.

Consider the following statement.

"It doesn't matter what you want. You're just another worker bee, storing honey for the Queen Bee. Of course, the social altruist sees himself as the Queen Bee. You conquer one of life's illusions when you see through a social altruist. You discover that he holds no values that enhance human life; he's the epitome of anti-life. Rational self-interest means you desire to preserve and enhance life."

If a miracle occurred and a social altruist became enlightened...he would use the term "for the good of the individual."

Absolute Facts

Natural Law means that an individual has a right to his life, liberty and property. No one morally has a right to forcibly take these from him.

Economic Law demonstrates that governmental interference with voluntary exchanges results in undesirable consequences...at least for honest citizens such as you or me. Members of the Elite reap short-term benefits...at our expense.

Certainly, social altruists and radical progressives violate these laws when they babble on about "the good of society." Tragically, they cause much destruction and misery when they impose this nonsense on others.

(Note: Some social altruists and radical progressives possess such an inner hatred towards people that they purposely advocate measures that lead to misery.)

Social Altruist and Radical Progressives

You're intelligent enough to know that the starting point of human action is the individual.

Let me ask you this. What other starting point could there possibly be? We may feel a certain oneness with all there is during our prayers, meditations...or other sublime experiences. Still, it's evident that you possess your body. You exist as an individual. It's up to you whether you want to soar as a Conservative Warrior...or melt away as an insignificance member of the Hive Mind Mentality.

If it was possible for a social altruist or radical progressive to violate the laws of the physical sciences, without the immediate effects of his stupidity becoming apparent, I believe he would try it.

This is Bizarre

Visualize this. See him attempting to put the final touches on a new building by tearing it down piece by piece. Even more bizarre, observe him disassembling a human body as a therapeutic health measure? He would destroy everything in sight, just as he attempts to eradicate civilization and the hopes, dreams and ambitions of countless number of individuals.

If we discussed the psychological reasons for the beliefs and actions of a social altruist or a radical progressive, we would enter a dark area of a warped mind—a place of extreme evil.

Allow yourself to consider this disturbing fact. These sociopaths have a deep hatred for the individuals that make up the human race, although it is often on a subconscious level. Because of this, they disdain every characteristic of goodness and productivity the heroic individual displays. These misery mongers especially despise honest entrepreneurs, people who make survival on our planet possible.

Fortunately, there are individuals of high self-esteem, who hold their life as their highest value. Unfortunately, these lovers of personal liberty and economic freedom are subjected to the extreme envy of the advocates of the politically correct society. Deep down a social altruist or a radical progressive is a miserable, hateful human. When he sees someone experiencing the joy of his existence, he feels an insatiable desire to smack him down. What other way is there for him to justify his own existence?

So now we have to make a choice that is critical for the survival of individualism and the future of our planet. It's also important to make a decision to accelerate your power.

Choose Your Destiny

Choice #1: Anti-Life Existence of the Hive Mind Mentality

The Hive Mind mentality attempts to annihilate the individual. In the classic series Star Trek – The Next Generation, a mortal enemy, the Borg states...

"We are the Borg. Your biological and technological distinctiveness will be added to our own. Resistance is futile."

Members of the Elite which include social altruists and radical progressives viciously attack innocent individuals. They attempt to annihilate everything that is good, sublime and rational. After all, a worker bee possesses no feelings, dreams or desires.

The Hive Mind Mentality is anti-life. When members of the Elite demand that you act for "the good of society" ...you know they plan to violate the life, liberty and property of the lone individual. These misery mongers just "love" to sacrifice the virtues of productive people with their cannibalistic, collectivist death wishes.

Choice #2: The Celebration of Life as a Conservative Warrior

Individualism soars as rational philosophy that believes in the sanctity of the individual...the power of the Conservative Warrior. It doesn't recognize the anti-life philosophy of the Hive Mind Mentality...except as the evil it is. Individuals do not exist as sacrificial fodder for others' irrational needs and desires. They have a right to live for their own sake. A man or woman should joyously celebrate his or her existence. All meaning in life begins and ends with the individual...and the relationships he cultivates with those who seek value for value experiences.

As you obtain one Power Strategy after another your power increases. Let's move on and capture the next one.

Productive achievement is a consequence and an expression of health and self-esteem, not its cause.

– Nathaniel Branden

Double Quotes
doublequotes.net

The Consequence of High Self-Esteem

Power Strategy #8: Actively Support the Free Enterprise System

Pure Fact: Your success in overcoming the Politically Correct Society depends on the survival of the free enterprise system. Now I'm going to back up my statement with proof.

What follows is controversial but it's important to understand because we live in a toxic society. What you're about to read is the result of years of continuous study of economics and psychology. I'm dedicated to understanding human action.

Unhampered Free Enterprise and Enlightened Self-Interest

Markets rule everything. That is the unvarnished truth. An individual who practices enlightened self-interest supports the free enterprise system. Another name for this system is unhampered capitalism. Unfortunately, its enemies have slandered it with lies and half-truths. We support it due to the fact that reason, logic and empirical data back it up.

Whether you want to believe it or not, the capitalist who acts from enlightened self-interest exists as a neutral and benevolent person. He desires value for value relationships and loves to see honest exchanges benefit as many deserving people as possible. He thrills to idea of men and women capturing happiness through personal liberty and economic freedom. He's a benefactor to people trying to survive and improve their ability to overcome the Politically Correct Society.

Acting from enlightened self-interest means you would never support predatory, exclusive, and extractive economic policies. You recognize that those systems bring short-term benefits by bleeding real wealth from the economy. In the end, an exclusive class (that grows deadly and more compact day by day) enjoys their spoils in an ivory tower built with the blood and bones of the average citizen. Imagine owning the privilege of making all the policy decisions while effectively shielding yourself from the real world...and that's how members of the Elite control the political and financial activities of the Politically Correct Society.

Scam of the Elite

According to David Stockman one-time budget director for Ronald Reagan and author of "The Great Deformation: The Corruption of Capitalism in America" "Maybe 100,000 people "live large" off today's $95 trillion casino. By contrast, according to the Social Security Administration's wage records, there were 100 million workers who held any kind of paying job during 2013, who earned a collective total of just $1.65 trillion that year." And it's getting worse. The establishment has pulled what rates as the *biggest scam in the history of mankind.

*At least it was the biggest scam ever. The measures they're taking to deal with the Coronavirus Pandemic could make that look like a “innocuous” swindle. Can you imagine the consequences of shutting down an economic system? It will take another book to explain it all.

It's impossible to condone the economic and political policies of the Elite because it gains wealth at the expense of innocent people. Imagine the gall of believing you deserve to “manage” people's money. Sociopaths can justify all kinds of nasty schemes.

In order to avoid confusion, I don't consider fabulously wealthy people who gain riches by satisfying consumer desires members of the Elite. In fact, these men and women deserve our admiration because they become wealthy by trading value for value.

Members of the Elite thrive and become wealthy through application of the establishment's political and financial scams. They don't trade value for value. They extort value; something you must realize if you're going to capture power as a Conservative Warrior.

World-Improvers, Interventionism and Injustice

You will not find an individual who practices enlightened self-interest in exclusive economic zones that seek to drain the lower classes. Value for value relationships are more to his liking. It's important you defend productive people regardless of social class. The more types of men and women you understand the better your chance of accumulating power and overcoming the Politically Correct Society.

One of the main problems with world-improvers and irrationally selfish people lie in the interventionist and socialist governments they create. Their purpose in life is to extract productive people's resources, eventually bleeding them dry. In this case, the parasite kills the host. That's why social systems eventually collapse, just as the Western Roman Empire and the Mayan Empire bit the dust. A smaller and smaller exclusive class of parasites suck the life out of a system until there's nothing left, even for them. I guess there's some justice in the end when the perpetrators of human suffering are rendered worthless. How can you be on a high horse when you've destroyed the wealth of the people holding you up?

We've seen the middle class decline since 2000 on an unprecedented scale. The conquistadors didn't die, they just came back to life in another form, wearing suits and ties.

Zero Interest Rate Policy (ZIRP) and Quantitative Easing (QE)

Let's allow David Stockman to explain the consequence of Zero Interest Rate Policy (ZIRP) and Quantitative Easing (QE). (Oh no! They've come back.) “Instead, this giant $95 trillion pool is where honest savings from the household and business sectors go to be scalped, appropriated and stolen by the hedge funds, dealers, financial engineers and gamblers which populate the casino. It is the excess girth of it that does the damage, magnifying the rent extraction and dead weight economic costs by orders of magnitude.” As you can see the more “funny money” the Fed pushes out the better it is for the Elite.

As a rational individual, you understand that the phony altruistic government system unfairly redistributes wealth from those who earn it to those haven't earned it. We go from capital accumulation to capital consumption. Now that's a method to prevent new startup businesses from getting off the ground.

Obviously, government interventionism always ends in failure and in fact causes more problems than it solves. Politicians and social engineers deliver deep gashing wounds to the economy, then attempt to cover them up with a cheap band-aid. A perceptive individual can observe the life blood of prosperity and well-being flowing freely out of the wound. The professional politician will call for blood thinners to stop the gushing flow of blood. You are probably thinking “This doesn't make sense” You're right. It doesn't make sense.

Know Your Prospect – Satisfy Consumer Desires

The rational individual learns that government interventionism in the marketplace robs people in the name of a fake altruism. The Fed's currency schemes also achieve the same result.

Let's say you're a writer, sales pro or just want to satisfy the customers' most urgent desires and still live by your highest values.

You probably noticed how I attempted to unleash certain emotions. It's quite possible you're angry or just plain disgusted and want to do something about it. Possibly, you think I'm full of it. That's means you're not a qualified prospect. What I wrote would appeal to Authentic Conservatives or Libertarians...or anyone else who is interested in understanding reality. The lesson is: Know your prospects and reach their deepest feelings and emotions.

Another Important Tip

Your prospect could feel like he stands alone when it comes to minority rights. It might seem to him that his individual rights do not matter. If you're a writer here's how to make him feel powerful and special.

You write with passion and power, defending the rights of the individual. You reveal the smallest minority happens to be the lone individual. You let your prospect know that you wholeheartedly root for him to successfully move forward, even if he currently feels he resides on the bottom of society's totem pole.

Your article lets him know you oppose the government using his money to support a privileged group of people who do nothing to earn it. You make it clear that you understand the struggling individual finds his best chance to advance if the government restricts its activities to protecting his (her) life, liberty and property. And let's not forget the pursuit of happiness. If you are for individual rights you are for minority rights. You soar as a real supporter of human rights. You stand tall as a Conservative Warrior.

Well, you just captured another Power Strategy. You own an impressive arsenal of weapons.

The Wisdom of our Founding Fathers

"Since the general civilization of mankind, I believe there are more instances of the abridgment of the freedom of the people by gradual and silent encroachments of those in power, than by violent and sudden usurpations."

James Madison

Congress must stop their encroachments!

Power Strategy #9: Seize the Strategic Advantage

The Conservative Warrior prefers to create his strategies, although having successful ones run on automatic gives him an advantage. There's only so much time in a day. Running around aimlessly in the Politically Correct Society because you're bullied by unconscious strategies doesn't lead you to the path of power and success. Unfortunately, the irrationally selfish person does just that.

What you want to do is analyze each area of your life where you're not achieving the results you desire. Chances are your strategy just doesn't cut the mustard because you've fallen for some of life's illusions. A prayer or meditation session could help you come up with some new ideas. Of course, you want to resort to your reasoning and intuitive powers. When you decide on a new strategy you need to get moving because power, money and success love speed.

Once you possess a strategic advantage, you can expect procrastination to arrive on the scene. No matter how many times you "kill" it, it always seems to re-appear because it possesses more lives than the proverbial cat. In fact, I'm convinced it's immortal, which means it's a never-ending battle to defeat it.

Here's quote for you. It's been stated in many different ways so I'm taking liberties with it. "Procrastination knocked on the door. Passion, desire and strategic action answered. No one was there."

Time for Action

When is the time to take action? Well it isn't tomorrow or next week or next month. It isn't when you finally have a perfect plan. It isn't when you feel better. It isn't when your problems are solved. It is now! And I mean now! The rational individual acts as a Conservative Warrior acts.

Fortunately, strategic action usually conquers procrastination. In addition, it insures you take productive actions that create the power you desire. Without a well-defined strategy, it's difficult to arrive at your destination. How will you accomplish your definite purpose without a purposeful plan? If you make very little progress because you bounce here, there, everywhere and even nowhere, your frustration could allow procrastination to wrestle control from you. You know that's completely unacceptable. That's why you take charge of your thoughts, feelings and actions. Your prospects depend on you to help them overcome their problems and improve their situation.

Wisdom for the Conservative Warrior

Bill Harris of Centerpointe Research Institute says, "If you are having trouble in relationships, and become attracted to people who treat you poorly, look at your attraction strategy, and change it to one that works better. If you're having trouble making money, you might want to do something about your strategy for making money, or for recognizing a potentially good money-making situation. If you have trouble learning, you might want to discover what your learning strategy is and improve it. If you have a way of becoming confused when you try to do or learn something, or become overwhelmed, there is a strategy involved, and you can change it. Becoming anxious is a strategy, and so is getting angry, getting depressed, and so on."

On page 882 of his masterpiece "Human Action" the great economist Ludwig von Mises states "Whatever the future may have in store for him (man or woman), he cannot withdraw from the necessities of the actual hour. As long as a man lives, he cannot help obeying his cardinal impulse, the élan vital. It is man's innate nature that he seeks to preserve and to strengthen his life, that he is discontented and aims at removing uneasiness, that he is in search of what he may call happiness."

Conclusion

If you're not accomplishing your goals and desires, you need to ask yourself why. What is holding me back? Why am I unable to take action on my important values? Am I allowing others to control my life? As soon as you come up with the answers take immediate action.

Strategic action transforms your definite purpose and your secondary goals and desires into reality. It makes sure you manifest that which you desire. It spells out the way you employ your resources to meet your objectives. You take a number of direct actions to achieve your highest values. You succeed.

Plain and simple. You are a unique individual and you deserve to capture the personal liberty and economic freedom that comes with the power and success you enjoy when you overcome the Politically Correct Society.

The Conservative Warrior believes in taking purposeful action to achieve his goals. Action is the name of the game. Strategic Action gets the results you desire.

You now possess 9 Power Strategies. The Conservative Warrior moves forward with purpose and wisdom. That allows him to overcome the New Politically Correct Society.